

IDAHO POTATO PULSE

Brought to you by the Idaho Potato Commission
Website: www.idahopotato.com

Attached are the latest PCN Stakeholder Update for April and June 2012. In the June update, the "official" announcement is made of two additional positive PCN fields. This is an expected development. These two fields total 151 acres and have been under regulation and are closely associated with the other positive fields within the same general area. We're continuing to work with APHIS and the Idaho State Department of Agriculture towards the eradication of PCN from Idaho.

Potato Cyst Nematode (PCN) is something that every grower really, truly, sincerely never wants to discover in his farming operation. IPC and growers impacted by PCN have worked with USDA APHIS to develop suggestions that can limit your potential exposure to PCN. Please take the time to review the attached information that could really help you avoid PCN.